

This outbuilding behind the Todds' home near the river in Warren was almost submerged.

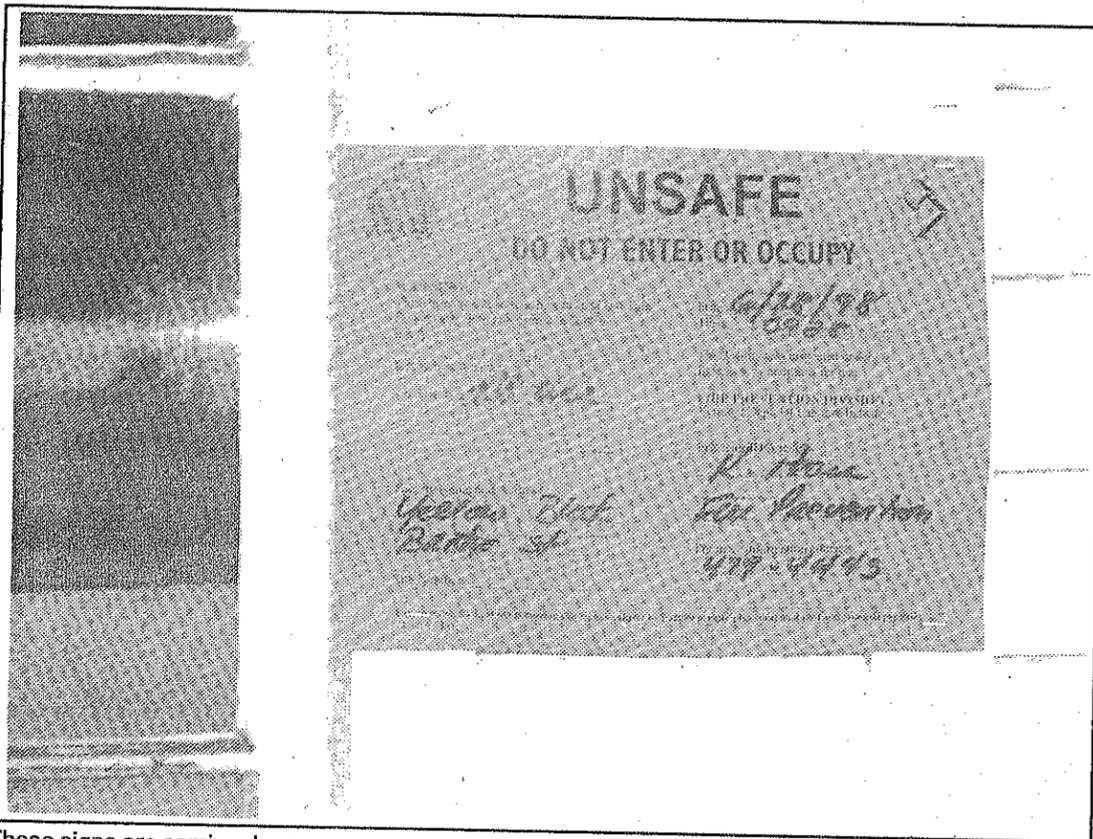

Rescue workers wait near the Allen, Peterson homes in Warren.

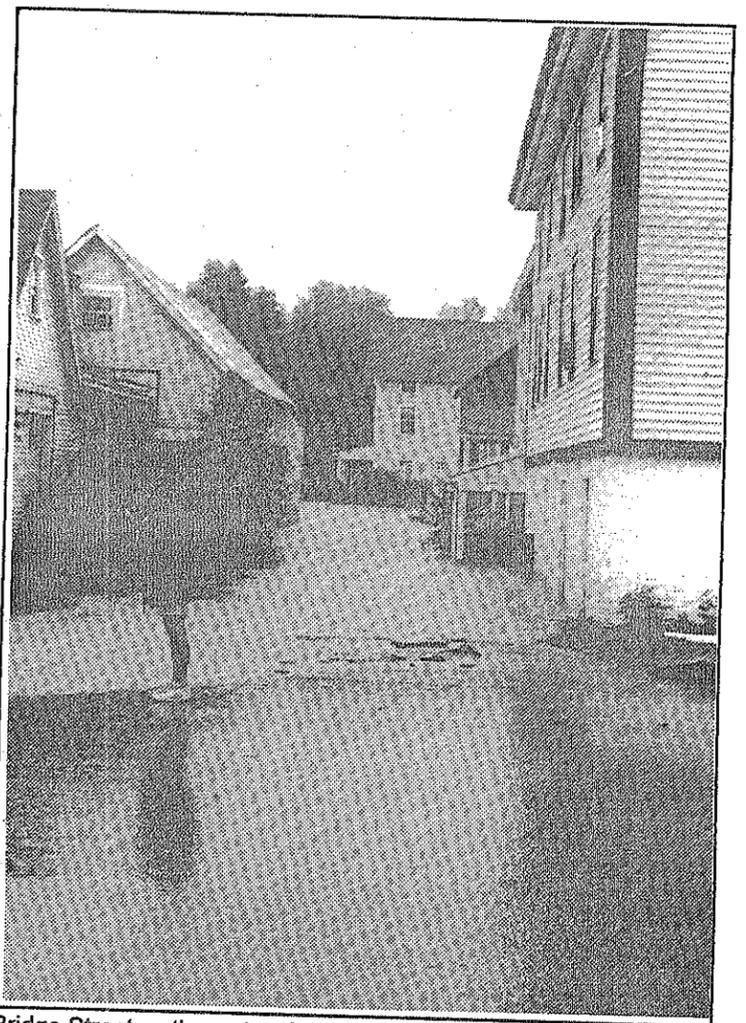

The washout at the bottom of the Sugarbush Access Road.

Bridge Street resident Myndy Woodruff measures the distance to which the water rose. Hhe estimated it rose 14 feet at the covered bridge in Waitsfield.

These signs are coming down now.

Bridge Street as the waters began to recede.

To donate funds or services to flood relief call 58FLOOD. Or visit I-100's home page (<http://www.madriver.com>).